... In comparison to the increasingly popular GPS-enabled watches (which are indeed useful for navigation), handheld GPS devices offer a better overview of the terrain as they can show detailed maps and in some cases also satellite imagery while watches can only show your location and direction in relation to the waypoints and routes (breadcrumb trail). Best Hiking GPS of 2020 - The Ultimate Guide - Best Hiking On the other hand, a big-screen GPS may not be the best choice in a compact or subcompact car. A 7" display in a smaller vehicle might seem to block too much of the view through the windshield! If possible, test drive a navigation system with your car to determine which size display is best for your situation. 5 Best Navigation
