One of my contacts at the time, suggested that I also read Poor Charlie's Almanack. I got the book, started reading it, got lost and then picked it up this year - remember, I have decided to be deliberate with my finances. The book became interesting when the Charles Munger's identity sunk in.

You can search for a specific title or browse by genre (books in the same genre are gathered together in bookshelves). It's a shame that fiction and non-fiction aren't separated, and you have to open a bookshelf before you can sort books by country, but those are fairly minor quibbles.
